

Bridge Builder mutual funds, available exclusively through Edward Jones Advisory Solutions®, provide investors diversified expertise from leading asset management firms. We select multiple asset managers (sub-advisers) for each fund, with each sub-adviser responsible for investing a portion of the fund.

Our Investment Philosophy

The management of our mutual funds is rooted in Bridge Builder's investment philosophy.

- Diversification – This can help reduce investment risks over time.
- Long-term approach – Taking a long-term view is an effort to align with our clients' best interests. We believe investing based on long-term expectations, rather than short-term speculation, provides the best opportunity for success.
- High quality – While some risk is necessary to achieve a desirable return, our goal with Bridge Builder funds is to have similar or less risk than that of comparable alternatives. We believe lower risk can ultimately lead to better client outcomes that generally come with staying invested.

Our Manager Selection Process

We strive to select diverse sub-advisers that have complementary investment styles, performance patterns and portfolio characteristics. We seek to invest in high-quality strategies that are proven with a track record of success. We select sub-advisers we expect to use for the long term, and employ an ongoing review process to ensure they continue to meet our criteria.

While each sub-adviser brings specific expertise to the overall portfolio, we look for certain characteristics in every manager we consider:

- Experienced, well-resourced team
- Sensible, repeatable investment process
- Portfolio characteristics that fit the team's investment philosophy
- Demonstrated track record of success

Past performance does not guarantee future results.

Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. The value of your investment in a Fund could go down as well as up. You may lose money investing in the Fund, including the loss of principal. Investing in the bond market is subject to certain risks including market, credit, interest-rate, liquidity and reinvestment risk. Investments in asset-backed, mortgage-related and mortgage-backed securities may be more sensitive to changes in interest rates, prepayments and impairment of the value of the collateral underlying the security. Investments in derivatives may be more sensitive to market, counterparty, liquidity and correlation risk. Investments in U.S. dollar-denominated foreign securities (including emerging markets) may be more sensitive to currency fluctuations, political and economic instability, differing government regulations and liquidity risk. Investments in Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) may be affected by changes in the value of underlying properties and tenant credit quality. Investments in small- and mid-cap companies may involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than larger companies. Multi-manager and multi-style management may lead to overlapping securities transactions and higher transaction expenses compared to single investment management styles. Outcomes depend on the skill of the sub-advisers and adviser and the allocation of assets among them. Investments in lower-rated and non-rated securities present a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than investments in higher-rated securities. The risks to the municipal bond market can include unusual volatility, liquidity issues, the inability of the issuer to repay the obligation and a tax risk to the investor if the municipal obligation fails to meet requirements. There is no guarantee that all of the municipal bond income will remain exempt from federal or state income taxes. Investments in municipal securities may be adversely affected by unfavorable legislative or political developments and economic developments that impact the financial condition of municipal issuers.

Free Cash Flow is a measure of financial performance calculated as operating cash flow minus capital expenditures. Free cash flow (FCF) represents the cash that a company is able to generate after laying out the money required to maintain or expand its asset base. Free cash flow is important because it allows a company to pursue opportunities that enhance shareholder value. Without cash, it's tough to develop new products, make acquisitions, pay dividends and reduce debt.
